LARGEST CIRCULATION IN THE CITY.

THE LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Postoffice at the end of each week is published officially in the DAILY NEWS every Friday morning.

News Summary.

JACOB BARBER, of New Orleans, is writing a book of the war. Sixteen Egyptian dancers are entertaining the Parisians.

A twelve foot alligator was killed on the bay shore of Mobile, by a boy, on Sunday, 20th.

An old she wolf and six cubs were killed in Marion county, Ill., last week.

The colored levee laborers at Memphis struck for higher wages on Tuesday, 22d, and attempted to parade the streets. The Freedmen's Bureau authorities caused their arrest.

The N. Y. Tribune of Friday, says on last Wednesday and Thursday mornings there was severe frost in most of the suburban towns, and in some of them very serious damage was done.

Capt. John Cook, formerly belonging to the rebel Gen. Lee's staff, was arrested in Chicago on Monday last for being the husband of two wives. The item goes "the round." We know of no such man on Gen. Lee's staff.

Three services would consign the whole South to the "Penitentiary of Hell." This figure of speech shows the magnanimity and large heartedness of T. A. N. would take the South to his own bosom.

A fall of meteoric stones occurred near Mobile May 14 and 15. They commenced falling at 9 A. M. and continued at intervals all day. The sky was perfectly clear during most of the time. The stones were of a silicious character, and some of them were quite hot when they fell.

Winona, Wisconsin, must be a nice place at the present time. Among the inducements for gentlemen to settle there, it is mentioned that "the can fish out of their garret windows, swim in their parlors, build skiffs on their roofs, practice rowing over their door yards, and keep ducks."

Colonel Wm. Paxson Johnson is announced as a candidate for Clerk of the County Offices. So says the Louisville Courier. Col. Johnson is the son of the late Gen. ALBERT SYDNEY JOHNSON, and one of the personal aids of JEFFERSON DAVIS in Richmond.

A new submarine cable was laid between Boston and East Boston on the 23d, for the purpose of transmitting the signals from the City Hall to the East Boston signal station. The length of the cable was 9440 feet, and its weight four tons, and it was laid in less than ten minutes.

One of the officers of the police in 1864, Ward, New York, has undertaken the herculean task of stopping the sale of newspapers on Sunday. It is understood that his action is not authorized by "The Board." As the city is undergoing such thorough reformation, we suppose the Captain thought he would go the entire way.

The English papers say, there is no longer any doubt that negotiations have for some time been in progress for the cession of Venice by Austria. It is to be hoped these negotiations may be brought to a successful issue, as in that event the chances of a general European war would be very much diminished.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has received from T. C. BRIGGS, of Jamaica, L. I., New York, a bunch of asparagus, composed of twelve stalks, each about four inches in circumference and thirteen inches in height, the whole weighing five pounds. It is understood that it is the intention to preserve this rare specimen of the agricultural world.

Gov. SWAN, President of the North Carolina University, has published a letter in which he strongly condemns the conduct of some students of that institution in issuing a ball ticket with JEFFERSON DAVIS, J. C. BRACKENRIDGE, Z. B. VANCE and other insurgent leaders, as honorary members. He says he has no means of preventing occasional occurrences of this nature.

The project of building an air-line railroad from Memphis to Cairo is being extensively agitated in West Tennessee. Proposals will be made to the Illinois Central Railroad Company to furnish the rails and rolling stock when the road is completed. When the line is finished its connections will make a most air-line railroad from Chicago to New Orleans.

The proprietors of the Chicago Times have purchased a lot on Dearborn street, between Washington and Madison, 20 by 90 feet, for $1500 per foot, aggregating $30,000. This is the highest price ever paid for real estate in Chicago. The Times previously owned 20 feet adjoining. On the united lots the proprietors will erect a handsome building adapted to the use of their business.

Strawberries by the "car load" is something new under the sun; but we read that two car loads of strawberries are arriving at Chicago daily from Oodden, Anna and Villa Ridge, on the Illinois Central Railroad. There is an area of over 300 acres of strawberries now ripening in those three towns, and promising the heaviest yield that any season has afforded.

In 1860 Illinois produced only six bales of cotton. The total yield in 1865 is estimated at 10,000 bales, twice as much as was exported annually from the whole country at the beginning of the century; twice as much as was grown by Kentucky, and nearly as much as Virginia, in 1860. The cotton is said to be equal to that of Tennessee in quality.

The Government has awarded a contract for raising the vessels in the river and harbor of Savannah which were sunk by the rebels to obstruct the channel. The gunboats and other vessels were scuttled and sunk at the time the city was evacuated. There are in all about twenty, some of them valuable, with all their guns and armament on board.

The Richmond Enquirer says: "The students in the University of Virginia are remarkable for a ripe age. About half of the two hundred and thirty of the present members are said to be thirty years old—some of them have families of children. Ministers who officiate before the students should know that they are said to be very averse to religion."

entific and belles lettres sermons, and to be best pleased with the plainest and simplest preaching. "The Southern papers have an account of the McQUEEN will case, recently before the Mississippi courts at Holly Springs. It was proven in the trial that "the testator bequeathed his estate to a niece and four daughters; disinheriting his own daughters because they joined the Methodist church." The man was insane, and not long since he became so violent and uncontrollable that his neighbors took arms and hunted him like a wild beast, and overtaking him in Calhoun county, shot him down on the road.

The women employed in a shoe-binding shop in Rochester, N. Y., have "struck" against a reduction of wages. It appears that some weeks since, having a large number of orders, the employer requested them to work out of hours, to enable him to supply the demand. They did this, hoping to receive additional compensation for it, but were disappointed to learn that, instead of payment, he had determined to reduce their wages nearly forty per cent. They offered to submit to a reduction of ten per cent., which was refused, and they then left. Their number was one hundred and twenty-five.

The increasing immigration from Ireland has already been noted. A late number of the Pall Mall Gazette observes: "Although labor is scarce and wages high in every part of Ireland, the exodus to America is rapidly on the increase. From Cork alone an average of fifteen hundred embark weekly, and from the other Irish ports the migration to the New World, by way of Liverpool, is proportionately rapid. The master wish of every Irishman belonging to the lower-middle and lower-class seems to be to leave his country for ever; an object which the Irish pastordom seems to attain by sending forward across the Atlantic his hardest and most promising sons and daughters, provided with all the money he can raise, to earn more for the transport of the rest of the family."

Advertisements outside of the city must be accompanied with the cash.

CHARLESTON.

TUESDAY MORNING, MAY 29, 1866.

THE ARGUMENT OF THE RADICALS.

By foolish expressions of many Southern newspapers, the radicals and their organs are making much capital. We see, in a late issue of the Cincinnati Gazette—a journal steeped in vituperation and villainous slander, but which, of course, a prominent paper in its section—some quotations from certain Southern newspapers, which look bad for the South. These sentiments are considered as public opinion, and give the Jacobins a wondrous amount of ammunition for firing.

The paragraphs quoted by the Gazette, and heralded as coming from "the leading Southern journals" set forth that if the South was not so overwhelmingly conquered, another war might take place. As a matter of course, the Gazette warns "the people of the North" that a standing army and the Freedmen's Bureau should continue in force in the "unreconstructed" States; that negro suffrage should be admitted there, and that the people of that section should be considered subjects of conquered provinces.

All this is simply twaddle. The papers South which speak of another war, only do so because they are wickedly foolish. The respectable journals entertain no such feelings. They are conducted by honorable and conscientious gentlemen. They reflect the views of a large majority of the public, and have no occasion to report to "radical" utterances for support. We candidly confess that in an era like this, the wayward and foolish blooded expressions of a Southerner strikes us with the same impression that those of the mean and cold-blooded cant of the frigid Abolitionist. Neither contributes to peace, justice and fraternity, and both unite in delaying the work of restoration, and both are heartily despised by the thinking masses of the antagonistic sections.

The Cincinnati Gazette is one of those detestable, perverting journals which do an enormous amount of harm. It copies ill-meaning paragraphs from the weakest of the Southern journals, and holds them up to its readers as Southern sentiments. It is one of those festering sores that, for want of general attention, is constantly not only growing worse in itself, but infecting all that comes in contact with it.

We entreat the people of the North who are not blinded by prejudice or fanaticism, to consider calmly and dispassionately the reports in continual circulation from this section. Whatever bitterness, disgust or contempt we may feel toward those who have made us feel, without cause, the iron hand of military despotism—who have, in their sole interest, robbed and plundered our homes—still we submit that we are more loyal to-day than those who continually traduce us.

"THE LAWS OF WAR."

Dr. BLUNTISCHLI, a Heidelberg Professor, with an eye to business, has taken advantage of the times, and published a treatise on the Modern Law of War. Dr. LIEBER's "Articles of War" drawn up in 1863, for the use of the armies of the United States, form the basis and the model of the work. Dr. LIEBER is so highly flattered at this distinguished recognition of his labors as a publicist, that he proposes to translate it for publication in this country.

The German professor, with the unpronounceable name, is in raptures at the conduct of the American War. He says: "The law of war has become more humane in the last wars of Europe and America," and again in another page "hopes that the belligerents [in case of a European war] will follow the example of America." Sancta Simplicitas! Dr. BLUNTISCHLI must have been reading Harper's Weekly during the last five years. How else could he have formed such optimistic notions about the American War.

But Dr. LIEBER's "Articles" were published by the Washington War Department in General Order No. 10, and surely the German Doctor has read them, inasmuch as he says in his Preface, these said Articles form the basis of his work. This Order formed the rule of conduct for the officers of the United States army during the last two years of the war. If the Heidelberg Professor will come over this way before he publishes his second edition, we will not act as his censor, take him round along sundry "swaths," and afford him a rare opportunity of re-perusing G. O. No. 100, A. and I. G. O. (1863), with the aid of a very lucid commentary.

We shall show him the beautiful Valley of the Shenandoah, from Harper's Ferry to Staunton, as fine a country as is to be found this side of Eden,—with a quiet, harmless, peaceful population, well contented to pursue their innocent rustic avocations, and desiring nothing so much as to be let alone.

The dear Doctor from Baden will please observe that, in accordance with Dr. LIEBER's Articles, these people were "raided" every few weeks. One MILROY plundered them systematically till it pleased Gen. Lee to "run him out" of Winchester. The brilliant exploits of Gen. SHERIDAN need scarcely be mentioned; for stand they not deeply written in the thousands of baras and mills burned all over the fair fields of Virginia?

Why carry the Professor to Eastern North Carolina, to our own Sea Islands, to the coast of Georgia or Florida? Why speak to him of Generals MITCHELL and GRIERSON in Alabama and Mississippi? Bless his innocent heart! has he ever heard of BEN BUTLER and the spoons? We suppose not. Harper's Weekly never tells such tales. We will not trust ourselves to cicerone Dr. B. along SHERMAN's track. The "Bummers" may still be about. But if the Professor will honor us with a visit, we will promise to introduce him to several very nice ladies of our acquaintance, who will post him on the humanity of SHERMAN's brave boys!

The Laws of War! Pshaw! When you can take the twist out of the whirlwind, you may think of regulating the savage barbarities of war. We may be mistaken in our opinion, but if so, it was in the American war we formed it, and we are prepared to give chapter and verse for every word of it.

MR. SEWARD'S LATE SPEECH AT AUBURN. Mr. Seward has recently been on a visit to his home at Auburn, New York, where he delivered another one of his able and scholarly speeches, the principal points of which we give to-day.

This address gives evidence of Mr. Seward's consistent maintenance of the views heretofore and frequently expressed by him as to the true policy to be pursued in regard to the Southern States. The word "reconstruction," he holds as a misnomer—"restoration," he regards as an accomplished fact, and the only end now to be attained, he contends, is "reconciliation"—the reconciliation of the Northern Senators and Representatives, and their constituents, to the Southern Senators and Representatives, and their constituents.

So far as the South is concerned, it has long since signified its willingness to be reconciled. If the question is open, it is entirely the fault of the Northern Senators and Representatives, and their constituents. Mr. SEWARD has the consolation of knowing, and we have the pleasure of testifying that he has faithfully done his duty in the regard.

THE TRIAL OF JEFFERSON DAVIS. It is announced by the New York papers—the Times and the Tribune—upon which they claim as good authority, that the trial of JEFFERSON DAVIS will commence at Richmond, Va., on the first Monday of June. The defense, it is added, has been entrusted to CHARLES O'CONNOR and JAMES T. BRADY, of New York; W. B. READ, of Philadelphia; Mr. BROWN, of Baltimore; Mr. PUGH, of Ohio; and GEORGE SHAW, formerly Corporation Attorney for New York. The arguments, alike for the prosecution and the defense, the Times remarks, will involve the most comprehensive and searching inquest into the constitutional duty of the Government, and the relations of individual States thereto, that has probably ever been made since the foundation of the Union.

The Radical journals keep up the most frightful growing underwood's ridiculous indictment of ex-President DAVIS. He has done his work so bunglingly that the leading literary organ of the radicals (the Nation) frankly confesses that it does not seem "very clear whether the bill of indictment has been found against him with the view of getting DAVIS off scot-free, or having him punished." Thus we go. UNDERWOOD's reward for all his dirty work is the derision and contempt of the Radical lawyers, and the hate and suspicion of the principal politicians and journals of the North. His burlesque DOGBERRY charge to the jury, and his utterly worthless argument, have placed him just where all respectable people would have him. "Hari Kari" is the last refuge of the unfortunate man.

That vile spawn of the Revolutionists, the Civil Rights Bill, is running the gauntlet of the courts, and seems to meet with very much the same fate in every section of the Union. Few, if any, of the most Radical judges have yet ventured to pronounce it constitutional, and it is being completely riddled by decisions adverse to its constitutionality in every direction. Each of these well digested judicial thrusts seems to pierce some vital point of the monster, and it now lies in a moribund state. Unless the Supreme Court shall play the good Samaritan to the Civil Rights Bill, bind up its wounds, and pronounce it constitutional, it will do very little mischief in any section of the country.
